

D.DWELLER Homeless

BIOGRAPHY:

From Phoenix to Seattle, D.Dweller's musical journey began at an early age and continues to unfold. Music is and always has been his way of communicating his message to the world. Through hip-hop and rap, his lyrics relate to the trials and tribulations, the beauty, and the highs and lows that we experience throughout everyday life.

On this creative path, D.Dweller has opened up for many major acts such as SNOOP DOGG, TOO SHORT, FAT JOE, KURUPT, MYSTIKAL, and E-40. He has also been a big force in giving back to the communities that have supported him throughout his career. He has donated his time and music for numerous benefits, including the Gilda Radner Cancer Foundation, programs advocating food for the homeless, and many cancer benefit shows. These experiences have not only influenced him as a person, they have had profound impact on his music.

FOCUS:

With the hope of creating a timeless, yet socially relevant message, D.Dweller wrote and released his single called "Homeless". He was inspired to write this song by witnessing the homeless sleeping outside in front of businesses, in the cold of night, on the streets of Seattle. He went out into the street community and listened to their stories firsthand. When finding out that most of these people were veterans of war, he was moved into action. This song gives a voice to an often voiceless community. The music is raw and real, and it may be uncomfortable at times. The music video for "Homeless" amplifies this situation and brings an unsettling topic out of the dark and into the light. It speaks to the truth that we are becoming more divided as a society and that we must not let those less fortunate disappear into the cracks. Using his music as a catalyst for social change, D.Dweller wants to wake up the minds and open the hearts of the world lyrically, so that we all can begin the healing.
